

Excel and Office Products Support

The library provides access to a number of productivity software packages on the public computers at Galter (Word, Excel, PowerPoint). However, we do not provide educational or technical support for these products. Here are your options:

- lynda.com: on demand access to a full range of online courses, currently being piloted by NU. Includes tutorials on all the major software packages. Learn more.
- Take a class through NU Human Resources or get one-on-one support (faculty/staff only). These services are fee-based. Learn more.
