

Electronic Bookplates: Finding New Ways to Acknowledge Benefactors and Solicit Future Support

Linda O'Dwyer, MSLIS; Ron Sims, MA; and James Shedlock, AMLS, AHIP
Galter Health Sciences Library, Feinberg School of Medicine, Northwestern University

Created bookplates using Adobe Photoshop → Conducted historical research on benefactors → Found images and photographs in the Galter Library's Special Collections → Created web pages: <http://www.galter.northwestern.edu/donors/> → Inserted links to benefactor pages in relevant catalog records

Objectives of project

- acknowledge contributions of donors
- inform patrons how library is funded
- solicit support through library web site
- use web site to highlight rare and archival materials in the library's Special Collections

Joseph R. De Lee Fund
The Galter Health Sciences Library is pleased to announce the creation of the Joseph R. De Lee Special Collections. The Special Collections are named in honor of Dr. Joseph R. De Lee, the first professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Northwestern University, who served as Chair from 1898 to 1925.

Dr. Joseph De Lee
Other Library Special Collections

Illustration from Practice of Obstetrics
The Galter Health Sciences Library Special Collections

Dr. Joseph R. De Lee Endowment for Obstetrics and Gynecology
NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Library Benefactors
Home | Medicine Catalogs | Databases | HealthWeb | E-Journals | E-Books | Reference Tools
Sign in for Online Services

Supporting the Galter Library
The Galter Library gratefully acknowledges the financial support and generosity of its dedicated benefactors.

Our Benefactors
To learn more about our benefactors and to see the bookplates we have created for them, click on one of the links below. The bookplates have been created to incorporate photographs and relevant images from our Special Collections and other Galter Library Special Collections. On the benefactor page, you can view a larger version of any small graphic or photograph by clicking on the image itself.

How to Support the Library
For information on supporting the Galter Library, contact the library's general use, inquiry, and reference assistant at (312) 503-1300 or js-helical@northwestern.edu #GAL120

Opportunities for Permanent Endowment
In addition to annual contributions for the Galter Library's general use, many opportunities exist to make permanent contributions to the library for specific purposes within the library. #GAL120

Credits:
Created by Linda O'Dwyer, Reference Services Librarian, with the assistance of Ron Sims, MSLIS, and James Shedlock, AMLS, Special Collections Librarian.
Last updated 6/02.

Benefactor page with archival illustration detail

The Ntallie A. and Louis D. Bookes
Neuroscience Library Fund

The Galter Health Sciences Library is pleased to announce the creation of the Ntallie A. and Louis D. Bookes Special Collections. The Special Collections are named in honor of Dr. Louis D. Bookes, a prominent neuroscientist and professor at Northwestern University, who served as Chair from 1938 to 1963.

Dr. Louis D. Bookes
Other Library Special Collections

Dr. Louis D. Bookes (D. Bookes, Ntallie A. Bookes, and Bookes Endowment)

Supporting the Galter Library
The Galter Library gratefully acknowledges the financial support and generosity of its dedicated benefactors.

Our Benefactors
To learn more about our benefactors and to see the bookplates we have created for them, click on one of the links below. The bookplates have been created to incorporate photographs and relevant images from our Special Collections and other Galter Library Special Collections. On the benefactor page, you can view a larger version of any small graphic or photograph by clicking on the image itself.

How to Support the Library
For information on supporting the Galter Library, contact the library's general use, inquiry, and reference assistant at (312) 503-1300 or js-helical@northwestern.edu #GAL120

Opportunities for Permanent Endowment
In addition to annual contributions for the Galter Library's general use, many opportunities exist to make permanent contributions to the library for specific purposes within the library. #GAL120

Credits:
Created by Linda O'Dwyer, Reference Services Librarian, with the assistance of Ron Sims, MSLIS, and James Shedlock, AMLS, Special Collections Librarian.
Last updated 6/02.

The Ntallie A. and Louis D. Bookes
Neuroscience Library

The Galter Health Sciences Library is pleased to announce the creation of the Ntallie A. and Louis D. Bookes Special Collections. The Special Collections are named in honor of Dr. Louis D. Bookes, a prominent neuroscientist and professor at Northwestern University, who served as Chair from 1938 to 1963.

Dr. Louis D. Bookes
Other Library Special Collections

Dr. Louis D. Bookes (D. Bookes, Ntallie A. Bookes, and Bookes Endowment)

Supporting the Galter Library
The Galter Library gratefully acknowledges the financial support and generosity of its dedicated benefactors.

Our Benefactors
To learn more about our benefactors and to see the bookplates we have created for them, click on one of the links below. The bookplates have been created to incorporate photographs and relevant images from our Special Collections and other Galter Library Special Collections. On the benefactor page, you can view a larger version of any small graphic or photograph by clicking on the image itself.

How to Support the Library
For information on supporting the Galter Library, contact the library's general use, inquiry, and reference assistant at (312) 503-1300 or js-helical@northwestern.edu #GAL120

Opportunities for Permanent Endowment
In addition to annual contributions for the Galter Library's general use, many opportunities exist to make permanent contributions to the library for specific purposes within the library. #GAL120

Credits:
Created by Linda O'Dwyer, Reference Services Librarian, with the assistance of Ron Sims, MSLIS, and James Shedlock, AMLS, Special Collections Librarian.
Last updated 6/02.

Benefactor page with example of catalog record